Ginn questions Bay School

spending policies, dockets

By RICH ADAMS Newly appointed Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board Member James Ginn, a local banker, asked for revisions of docket procedures and intently questioned spending policies Monday at a lengthy meeting of the board. The 3.5 hour meeting was Ginn's first since he was appointed to the slot by the Bay St. Louis City Council Feb. 20 to replace Robert Hamilton, who asked not to be reappointed after serving 20 years on the board.

The meeting was also the first for Betty Diboll, who was elected to the

Sheriff tosses hat into uncertain ring

By RICH ADAMS

Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan J. Ladner Jr. said Wednesday he will not seek an unprecidented fifth term as sheriff due to health problems, but anticipates he will run for "a less confining and time consuming" office in the August primary election:

Ladner had a serious operation on June 7, 1977, in which four discs from his spinal column were surgically removed.

Ladner said Wednesday he has completed a recent series of tests and check-ups, and his doctor advised against running for sheriff.

'My doctor told me not to run again because of the problems which could result due to the operation." Ladner

"The job of sheriff is difficult because it is so demanding . I am on duty 24 hours a day, 30 days a month, 365 days a year." he continued year," he continued.

Peterson announces forsheriff

Chief Deputy Ronald A. (Ronnie) Peterson of the Hancock County Sheriff's Department has announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff in the upcoming August primary election.

Peterson, a veteran of the Vietnam conflict, has served in the sheriff's department as chief deputy, investigator, and narcotics investigator for the past 7.5 years. A native of Bay St. Louis, Peterson and his wife, Darlene, have two children: Ronald II,8, and Windy Lynn,

He is a graduate of Bay Senior High School and attended Pearl River Junior

Peterson attended the Mississippl Law Enforcement Academy in Jackson, as well as numerous local and statewide law enforcement seminars. He served four years in the Marine Corps, and is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Kiln and the American Legion in Bay St. Louis. Peterson and his family reside at 319 family, and I will possibly run for a less confining and time-consuming office,"

The sheriff would not speculate on which office he might seek. "I would want to remain an active sheriff, not just sit behind a desk," Ladner said Wednesday in elaborating on his decision to give up the county's top law enforcement post. "I have enjoyed being sheriff for 16 years," he added.

Ladner was first elected to the office in 1956, following a seven-year term as a Bay St. Louis city commissioner.

During his first two terms, Ladner could not succeed himself as sheriff, and returned to work for the L&N

The sheriff gained his third term in 1972, and was elected a fourth time in 1975.

Early in the meeting, Ginn asked that the docket be broken down into categories to allow board members to compare what money has been spent with amounts allotted in the budget.

The docket was previously listed in the chronological order that bills are received by the school, with no categorization except for transportation spending. Ginn explained that if janitorial services, for example, were categorized, the expenditures could be compared with what was allowed in the budget at the beginning of the fiscal would give the board more insight as to how much is being spent for what "I feel we could more intelligently look at spending on a month-to-month basis," Ginn said.

Ginn's motion to categorize the docket was seconded by Diboll and unanimously approved by the board. In other action Monday, the board approved paying $245 in medical bills for students who received medical attention following a Jan. 10 incident in which some two tons of plaster from a lassroom ceiling collapsed on a class:

The collapse was determined to bedue to deterioration of the ceiling. Five students received medical at-

An archaeological survey has produced enough evidence to request excavation of several acres at Hancock County's Port Bienville Industrial Park where a Poverty Point culture village is believed to have existed in 1500 B.C.

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission-sponsored survey was begun Sunday by Biloxi Archaeologist Dale Greenwell, an instructor at the University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Park branch in Long Beach.

Greenwell said Monday, "Enough evidence has been found to support the

Rutherford offers for re-election

J.D. RUTHERFORD JR. John D. "Big John" Rutherford Jr. has announced he will seek re-election as Chancery Clerk in the August Democratic primary.

Rutherford, 59, is a former Internal Revenue Service auditor. He is serving his second term in the Chancery Clerk's office with responsibilities as county-treasurer, clerk of the Chancery Court, clerk of the Youth Court, clerk of the Board of Supervisors and county

Rutherford and his wife Rose have five children - Dr. J.D. Rutherford III, Mrs. Jeanle Moran, James Rutherford, Jeff Rutherford and Jan Rutherford. The candidate is a 1940 graduate of Bay St. Louis High School and attended

"I will now recommend to the Mississippi Department of Archives and History that they consider excavation of the northern section of this 25-acre site," declared Greenwell

Monday. Greenwell was doubtful he would find enough evidence to warrant an excavation of the site when he began his survey Saturday, because the site had been devastated by private collectors

Seuzeneau to run for Justice slot

G.R. (Jerry) Seuzeneau has announced his candidacy for District Four Justice Court judge.

The 36-year-old native of Bay St. Louis and his wife, Pat, are parents of two sons, Tad and Tommy.

Seuzeneau is a 1960 graduate of St. Stanislaus High School and is employed by L.L. Kergosien and Son as a real estate and insurance agent.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in business administration at the University of Southern Mississippi. Seuzeneau is a member of the Bay St. Louis Parks and Playgrounds Commission, the Bay High Booster Club, the Mississippi High School Activities Association, and is president of the Bay St. Louis Jaycees,

He is a veteran of the Air Force. Seuzeneau and his family reside at 211 Seventh St., Bay St. Louis.

He also said Saturday that surveys are superficial and what the area needed was excavation.

Look Out, China.. here we come!

The continuous cave-ins on the streets of Bay St. Louis make one wonder if they are ever going to stop.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday gave birth to three more to give you an idea of what we are talking about.

The recent rains, we are sure, will get the blame - well most

The comment we would like to make is this - since we are located in a semi-tropical climate, very high rainfalls can be expected and sewer systems should be designed to handle such heavy precipitation.

Every time there is a heavy rainfall, cave-ins seem to appear all over Bay St. Louis.

Of course, some are in places which have been problem areas before, but not all of them, as new locations continue to crop up or is that crop down. Many of we sidewalk superintendents had many doubts as to whether the sewer system in Bay St. Louis would ever work when installed, because we felt the job wasn't being done correctly. Since we are not all engineers, we cannot really say it wasn't constructed properly.

The system seem to work pretty well with the exception of the numerous cave-ins.

We are still not engineers, but we just wonder if the City of Bay St. Louis is conducting proper maintenance on the system.

We have never really heard of any specific routine maintenance being done on the sewer system other than fixing something which has broken.

If you own an automobile and want it to last, you change oil, filters, check tires, fan belts, etc. long before it quits operating

It may be wise for the Bay Council, at this time, to take an inventory to see if they are really handling the sewer system of Bay St. Louis in a proper way.

The sewer system is something which effects every resident in the old City limits of Bay St. Louis and some in the new annexed areas. Council will really get some action if the sewarage is blocked and the flow is reversed - they will have people knocking at their doors, running them down on the streets, etc.

We have had that experience. It is a very messy situation when your commode backsup in your bathroom. And the smell, that is the hardest thing to get rid of all together. It isn't a nice job to clean up either.

And when nature calls, what do you do, especially if your neighbor is having the same problems.

We are sure Bay police will do the same thing which was done to a Mardi Gras celebrant in Waveland during the 1977 parade. The police didn't appreciate him using the outdoors, and we do not see very many outhouses around town anymore.

The Bay St. Louis Council has been in office for 20 months now. Cave-ins continue. They inherited some real dillies, and it looks like they would get the message that just maybe something wasn't being done correctly in regards to the sewer

We have mentioned the fact that on some streets the dirt has been worn out by being dug up for repairs so many times. Well, this same dirt will have to be disturbed again, with the same places still caving in.

We hope the cave-ins cease before we fall to China.

Bay youth dies in one car mishap

GARRY J. WIGGINS

By RICH ADAMS An 18-year-old Bay St. Louis youth was killed late Sunday night after the driver of a car in which he was a passenger failed to negotiate a curve and hit a pine tree in Waveland.

Waveland Police Chief Donald Dorn reported that Garry J. Wiggins, 18, 119 State Street, Bay St. Louis, died en en route to Hancock General Hospital as a result of head and neck injuries suffered in the accident.

Dorn said James J. Phelps, 18, 201 Farrar Street, Waveland, was driving a car owned by Wiggins when he failed to negotiate a curve on South Street in Waveland.

The car left the road and hit a pine tree broadside at approximately 10:55 p.m. Sunday evening, Dorn reported. Mobile Medic was called to the scene and took Wiggins to Hancock General Hospital, but Chief Dorn reported the youth died on the way to the hospital. Wiggins was a senior at Bay St. Louis High School. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.J. Wiggins of Bay St. Louis.

Phelps was admitted to Hancock General Monday morning with a reported blood clot, according to Dorn. Hospital Administrator Thomas Gilmore said Phelps is in "stable good condition, under observation for possible internal injuries."

The Waveland police chief said no summons has been issued in the mishap, adding that an investigation is being conducted. Investigating officers in the case are Ray Murphy, Emannuel Antoine, and Alan James.

A visitation conducted by Edmond Fahey Funeral Home was Tuesday. Funeral services for the youth were conducted Wednesday at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, with burial at St. Mary's Cemetery in Bay St. Louis.

Picayune firm withdraws Bay FmHA project

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The engineering firm of Broadway and Seal has notified the Bay St. Louis mayor and council the company is withdrawing its proposal on a Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) grant.

The Council accepted a proposal from Broadway and Seal at the close of a February 6 meeting. Councilmen James Thriffiley, Pete Benvenutti and Fred Wagner voted in favor, and voting against acceptance of the proposal were Councilmen Harry Farve and Wilmer Seymour.

Mayor Larry Bennett was in Washington attending a National Association Regional Council meeting when the Council accepted the engineer's proposal on the 3-2 vote.

When Bennett returned, he filed a veto of the Council action with the City Clerk. To override veto, the council must muster a 4-1 vote favoring such

At the March meeting, the mayor told the council he had been told by Gilbert Montgomery, FmHA district director, via telephone only 30 days remain to get started on the project or the government would withdraw the grant.

Bennett said he received a letter a few days later confirming FmHA's

At the close of the regular meeting March 6, Councilman Pete Benvenutti suggested a special meeting to be held to reconsider the engineering firm for the FmHA project in view of the deadline facing them.

The Council agreed to a recess meeting scheduled for 4:45 p.m. today, to now apparently deal with the matter of the Picayune engineers' withdrawal. The letter from Broadway and Seal, Civil Engineers follows:

> PICAYUNE, MARCH 9, 1979

Mayor Larry Bennett and Members of the City Council City of Bay St. Louis P.O. Box 310 Bay St. Louis, MS 39520

In view of the recent delays in regard to the veto by the Mayor of the Council's selecting another engineer to submit a proposal on the Farmers Home Administration grant, and the further delay by the attempt to over ride the Mayor's veto, we feel that it is in the best interest of the City of Bay St. Louis and the harmony of the City Administration, that at this time we withdraw our proposal on this project.

Any further delays in this matter due to the strict time requiements by the Farmers Home Administration would onl" be detrimental to the City of Bay St. Louis and its people, and we in no way want to contribute to the loss of this grant.

Please be assured that the entire firm of Broadway & Seal will honor any request by the Mayor and City Council to cooperate in any way possible with regard to information and material that we have gathered in the preparation of this project throughout the preliminary application. We will be most willing to cooperate with any engineering firm that the City Council wishes to select in regard to the continuation of this project.

Sincerely, Buddy S. Broadway, P.E.

Engineer critical of contingencies

March 12, 1979 Editor

Sea Coast Echo Dear Sir:

As a professional engineer, citizen and taxpayer, I feel it my responsibility to bring to the attention of the public some facts about the proposed $10 million Farmers Home Administration

This project covers installation of water, sewerage, street repair and Louis.

This project is not a gift from the federal government as some may think. It will be a loan-grant combination. How much will be loan and how much will be grant money has not yet been determined. At best this loan will cost the city $5 million - possibly more, if grant funds are not available.

With a project of this size, it is necessary that we have the best possible engineering report and feasibility study that we can get. Paying for such reports will be tax dollars well spent.

These reports will do several things. They will determine the scope of the project, will identify costs, and most importantly, will show whether the project is feasible.

These reports are time consuming, complicated tasks. If they are not objective, if they are not thorough or if the firm doing the reports tries to cut corners to save money, it will only jeopardize millions of dollars later on.

A well done engineering report and feasibility study will insure that the city can pay for the project without creating an unnecessary burden on the tax-

The mayor and the city council are now in conflict over the selection of an engineering firm to do these reports. I agree with the majority of the council that a project of this magnitude should not be done on a contingency basis.

We as taxpayers should be willing to pay the cost of doing these reports properly. It would insult our intelligence to expect to get quality work free of charge.

Contingency engineering and free engineering violate the professional code of conduct for engineers. It is disappointing that our mayor and two of our councilmen have voted to encourage the violation of that code by a Picayune engineering firm.

In a letter to the council, this firm proposed to complete the engineering report and feasibility study for free, contingent on getting the engineering work for the project when the funds are approved. On several separate occasions, this contingency offer has been repeated by the firm's local representative and by a principal of the firm. Recently, after the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers began investigating this firm for possible code of conduct violations, the firm was quoted in news articles as contradicting its earlier letter by stating that a contingency offer was never made to the city. In the past, engineering bloopers have created many hardships for the citizens of this community and have wasted hundreds of thousands of the taxpayers' dollars. The Main Street fiasco was impassable for eight months, The pedestrian overpass at Dunbar Avenue and Highway 90 began with "free" costing about $16,000 for two small sidewalks. Our existing sewer system is continuously caving in throughout the city causing costly emergency repair ex-

engineering services and ended up penditures. It is time to put an end to spending large sums of the taxpayers money without competent engineering. The majority of the city council has selected a qualified engineer for the Farmers Home Administration project, but the mayor's veto has delayed the project. In fact the city may lose the funds

Mayor Bennett, Councilmen Harry Farve and Wilmer Seymour should reconsider their positions and vote with the majority of the council.

To do so would encourage good engineering for our city and get this worthwhile project off the ground. Charles F. Gottschalk, P.E.

Councilman's vote

record questioned

March 10, 1979 Editor. The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir: Within the last several months Wilmer Seymour, Bay St. Louis councilman-at-large, has voted to encourage violations of the law and professional engineering code of ethics.

The first time was his vote against the majority of the city council who requested a monthly financial report from the Bay St. Louis city school superintendent. These reports are required by law.

The most recent instance was when he voted against the majority of the city council by not overriding the mayor's veto in regard to engineering con-tingency contracts which are prohibited by professional ethics codes.

Mr. Seymour is a former guidance counselor at the high school, and is now the athletic director. In his position, he should be setting a better example for the young people of our community.
In the future, Mr. Seymour should think more, and respect both the law and the law-abiding citizens he represents...

Sincerely yours, Elmer E. Boyd find someone who will lend a helping hand, but to find a total stranger who will go completely out of his way to help you is astonishing. Such a man is Al Von Antz.

On a chance meeting in a doctor's office, in conversation I mentioned we would like to give away to the top money raiser in our bike-a-thon. He said he would see what he could do and took my name and number.

When I told this to friends I was told not to wait. "People talk, but coming across is another matter," they said. Lo and behold, this man not only talked, but he did it. We now have a bike courtesy of Mr. John J. Housey of

50-year-pld plea urges civic pride

March 13, 1979 Editor Sea Coast Echo Bay St. Louis

Dear Sir:

To be exact, it was 54 years ago when municipal officers of the little city of Bay St. Louis felt called upon to ask its citizens to "clean up, paint up, beautify embellish and adorn's residences and places of business.

They said: "The people are at last united into one composite whole for the coming dawning."

Perhaps we should get around to complying with the wishes of these dedicated public officials. I am not certain what they had in mind when they spoke of "the coming dawning." but I have in mind the coming Spring Pilgrimage. Company's coming! Let's put a "best foot forward" and at least clean up, paint up and beautify areas that can be seen by our guests. This might mean waiting to pile pickup trast along the streets, or should your garbage pick up fall on March 26, just this once hold it out of sight until the next regular pick up.

It would help our image — a pleasant little city that is "CLEAN AND GREEN" - nice place in which to live.

Also at the meeting, McCullouch showed the board a letter from the Hancock Insurance Agency suggesting that a value appraisal of all school buildings be conducted by the General Adjustment Bureau to bring appraisal of the buildings to up-to-date estimates.

The superintendent said the $2,658 an appraisal will cost is not included in the school budget, and asked the board if the matter could wait until July 1 when the board will approve a budget for the

Suez Canal survey directed from Navy's NSTL facility

The United States Naval Ship Harkness recently returned to Norfolk, Va., after year-long operations surveying approaches to the Suez Canal under direction of the Naval Oceanographic Office headquartered at NSTL, Hancock County.

Iancock County.

Data obtained in the surveys will be used by the Department of Defense in preparing maps and charts and will be shared with Egypt and other maritime nations.

Existing charts of Egpytian waters are both outdated and inaccurate and their continued use could be a hazard to increasing traffic, particularly deep draft tankers, a Navy spokesman reported.

The project involved coordination among several U.S. agencies, in addition to the Navy, including the Department of Defense, Department of State and the Agency for International Development.

HARKNESS is manned by Civil Service crewmen, all of whom are employees of the Navy Military Sealift Comwhich operates HARKNESS.

The Naval Oceanography Office is the operating arm for the Commander, Naval Oceanography Command.

Survey operations were carried out by the 57 Naval officers and enlisted personnel of Oceanographic Unit Five, assisted by a Navigation Aid Support Unit and a civilian complement from NAVOCEANO.

A Navy helicopter detachment operated from the HAKNESS' deck to provide logistic support.

Egpytian personnel served aboard HARKNESS throughout the survey. receiving training in the use of hydrographic survey equipment and assisting in the conduct of operations.

HARKNESS, delivered to Military Scalift Command in was designed specifically for survey operations.

The ship is named in honor of Rear Admiral William Harkness, a leading 19th century astronomer and former director of the U.S. Naval Observatory Washington, D.C.

HAKNESS is 393 feet long, has a beam of 54 feet, and cruises at 13 knots. The ship's ruising range is more than ,000 nautical miles. Survey tasks are carried out by personnel aboard the ship and by special teams dispatched from HARKNESS to handle survey tasks in shallow waters or on shore.

The ship is equipped with four survey launches, two landing craft, two Boston whalers, and accommodates two helicopters.

It can happen anytime In mid-afternoon. Late at night

You pick up your ringing phone only to be verbally assaulted by a torrent of disgusting obscenities. And the sick mind that placed the call succeeds in sickening you. Happily, there is something you can do about obscene phone Something that will turn off a sick mind faster than Simply hang up.

It takes two to make a successful obscene call. A caller and a listener. In effect, by hanging up you immediately neutralize Law enforcement agencies together with South Central Bell, are making these risky times for obscene caller. They risk not only their reputations, but a fine and jail sentence, as Someday, obscene phone calls may be entirely eliminated.

But until the time comes, the best way to deal with the obscene caller's hang up is to hang up.

And the Trimline set not only looks great, but also is perfect

MEMORIAL TREE - A memorial tree was planted by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club Tuesday in memory of Miss Mary Jane Perkins, former teacher and principal of Waveland School for 31 years. Mrs. Russell Sutton, top left, Ms. Mildred Means, Waveland librarian; Ms. Barbara Rappold, Waveland alderman; Mrs. Horatio Weston, memorial garden chairman; Ms. Clarence Ward, Ms. John Newkirk, Ms. Gerrard Ford, and Mrs. Dan Russel, home and neighborhood service chairman and Girls Scouts Tera Breland and Andrea Selley do the planting near the Waveland Library. The library is located on property of the old Waveland school where Ms. Perkins taught. She died May 17, 1978. The planting was to be held on Arbor Day but had to be cancelled due to severe weather conditions. Ms. Russell said the club, in addition, is in the process of restoring welcome signs into Bay St. Louis and Waveland in preparation for its annual Spring Pilgrimage. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

DuPont grant made to JSU

The academic areas of science and engineering are the focus of a $3,500 grant recently awarded to Jackson State University by the E.I. DuPont de Nemours and Company.

Dr. Ruffin N. Noisette, a representative of the company's college relations division, made the presentation to the university and its department of chemistry.

The purpose of the grant is to help the university enhance its instruction and research in science and engineering and to strengthen and further develop the chemistry department.

According to Dr. James Perkins, professor and head of the chemistry department, the grant will be used to support consultants brought in for workshops, provide speakers for seminars, as well as to provide graduate student stipends and supplies for the department.

In general, the grant will be used to promote various programs of the chemistry

For several years, DuPont has been awarding the grant to Jackson State's total science area, and for the past two years, specifically to the chemistry department. This year's grant raises the total given to the chemistry department by DuPont to JSU must submit a brief report giving a general description of how the funds were used to the executive director of committee of education aid of the DuPont Company prior to June 1, 1980.

The university is required to give the report so that an appraisal of the extent to which the grant was needed and is contributing to the process of the chemistry department can be made.
